Manual 1- Function and duties of WATER & LAND RESOURCES Vertical

The Vertical works towards ensuring equitable access to water and land resources while focusing on the sustainable development of the nation. It formulates policy directions and advisories to harness the potential of advanced and ready-to-use technologies and promotes research and development to achieve excellence in water and land resources management. It aims to enhance the standard of living of all citizens by enabling hassle-free access to these two crucial resources, and to equip all stakeholder organisations in attaining higher standards of service delivery without hampering sustainable development.

The vertical plays a crucial role in the formulation of policy recommendations for the Water and Land Resources sectors in consultation with the Ministries/ Departments concerned. It shares expertise and best practices with States; offers a strategic policy perspective to the Government, and addresses challenges through on-going interactions and discussions.

Appraisal of various water sector and land resources schemes/ programmes/ policies is also done in the vertical. The primary goal of this vertical is to ensure that water and land resources are both used efficiently to support and promote growth across various sectors to achieve Viksit Bharat by 2047.
